Insurance Laws.

The laws regulating insurance in Geor gia are such as to give very general satisdo sometimes arise, however, in which their rights and equities might be more fully guarded; but even more rarely does rance policy in this state. As a rule, losses are promptly adjusted, and paid at or before maturity. Should a loss present any well grounded suspicions of unfairness on the part of the insured, companies very properly require a full compliance with all the terms of the contract, in proving up the loss. Complain in unfounded suspicions and require proofs that are unreasonable and burthensome to the insured. It is to meet sume, that caused Judge Reese to introevidence in suits upon policies of insurance, and which passed that body with It is now in

If the legislature, upon a full under ame had become a law for want of that care which should characterize every measure affecting the public good or private interest.

A Huge Railroad Pool.

The recent mysterious meetings of rail pad managers in Macon and Atlanta, om which all reporters were excluded, and into the secrets of which no interviewer could pry, were held, as is now known, for the purpose of effecting s ractical consolidation of all the southern lines east of the Mississippi riv-

They were called to abolish at to run henceforth; from Liverpool to Port one fell blow all southern rivalry in freight rates, and to give us, under cern that could dictate its own terms. The Macon convention, which was held on the 21st day of last month was composed of representa tives of sixteen southern railroads, or of a capital of $105,000,000. The subsequent meeting in this city, on the 7th instant, was even more largely attended, every important southern line being rep-

The plan adopted, is simply this: the usiness of competing points is to be pooled, and distributed in certain fixed proportions, These competing points were declared to consist of Selma, Montgomery, Atlanta, Macon, Augusta, Eufaula, Dalton, Chattanooga, Union Springs, Newnan, West Point and Opelika. The rates of division were first fixed, and then it was agreed that any road which receives more than its share of business, at any competing point shall only receive on the surplus one per cent per ton per mile on average tances, and the balance shall be paid over to the lines that did not bet their share of the business. The following cussed the subject of emigration, and on cases sufficiently illustrate the principles

Atlanta—Of cotton shipped from or through (except from Opelika and be-low), the Central radroad is to receive one-third, the Georgia railroad one-third, and the Western and Atlantic and At-lanta and Richmond Air-Line one-third. Augusta-Of the traffic between Eastern and coast cities, the S. C. R .R, is to receive 36 per cent., the Central 30 per cent., the Port Royal 18 per cent., and the Atlantic Coast-line 16 per cent.

Will this combination hold water? It is at least doubtful. Evidence of its unsubstantiality can be seen in the apparent fears of the convention itself. He is a native of Smithfield, Jefferson country, Oato, where he was born January 9, 1881. He is of Quaker extraction, his ancestors coming to this country with William Penn. He was educated at the public schools and spent his early life on his schools and spent his early life on his schools and spent his early life on his father's farm and in flat boating on the Ohlo river. When he arrived at his ma-jority he became a student at Athens college, where he remained, and then began the study of the law in the office of the tee at all. Young introduced a bill, approlate Secretary Stanton. He was admitted to practice in St. Louis, but his health failing he entered into partnership with his brother in 1844, and began a mercantile business in Carollton, Ill. Mr. Sha-ron remained at that place till 1849, when he went to California and began busines at Sacramento. The floods of that yea swept his store out of existence, but did swept his store out or existence, out did not rain him entirely, and in 1850 he went to San Francisco, where he turned his attention to operations in real estate. AN ARMY OFFICER'S CAREER.

[From the Troy Times, January 15.]

The doors of the Albany penitentiary yesterday elesed upon a man whose brief history is, indeed, a sad one. His name is Virgil's Eggleston, and he fell from one of the most responsible and honored positions in the army of the United States. Born of greatly respected parents in the village of Palmyra, in this state, he received a good education, and was prepared to discharge with credit and intelligence the duties of a worthy if not a prominent member of society. He possessed influential friends, whise cured for him a position in the paymaster general's department of the army. While residing in Washington, and performing with fidelity the duties of a clerk in the employ of the government, he became acquainted with the daughter of Henry Wilson's landlady, and eloped with her. They were married and returned to the maternal domicile. Mr. Wilson now interested himself in the popular and recovery and the second of the state of the maternal domicile. Mr. Wilson now interested himself in the popular and recovery and the second of the second of the maternal domicile. Mr. [From the Troy Times, January 15.] SONVILLE

The fact that he had been taken from civil life and given a position in the army which so many lientenants and captains coveted, caused Eggleston to be guarded with a jealous eye, and from the start he was unpopular in the service. However, he was sent to Oregon, and went thither, taking with him his young wife, a giddy, thoughtless creature, over whose shameless career subsequently we will draw the vail of silence. Major Egglesdraw the vail of silence. Major Eggleston was in the Modoc war, and was one of the first to enter the lava beds after the cruel murder of General Canby. His heroism gained him some favor with the officers, and his military career now b came more promising. The subsequent discovery of the bad conduct of his wife made him desperate, and, for the first time in his life, he became reckless, and engaged in a life of wild disorder and dis-sipation. The more he tried to do for her the worse she grew. Debts multi-plied, and sorrows filled his cup to over-flowing. At last he began to use the ublic money to meet his own and ife's extravagances. The sum of we've thousand dollars had been embezhd and squandere !, when he was arrest ed, tried by court-martial, and sentenced to be cashiered, and imprisoned in the Albany Penitentiary for the period of five years, and to remain in confinement intil the amount of money embezzled was restored to the government, which prac-tically amounted to a life-sentence. Pres-ident Grant approved the proceedings of the court, but, with a generous indorsement regarding Eggleston's bravery in the Modoc war, fixed the limit of the imprisonment at ten years. Still More Help for the Concert. Parkins & Jennings, We have the pleasure of announcing yes terday that, in view of the fact that all the admission fees of our Distribution Concert are to be given to the Methodist and Baptist Orphan Homes in and near this city, COL. THOS. F. LOWE, the inimitable violinist, would contribute his services to the entertainment. This, in itself, would attract hundreds to DeGive's onera house, as to listen to Colonel Lowe's manipulation of the violin and his rendition of the glorious old time tunes, is second only to that of the 32 Broad Streat, near the Bridge WRITE PINE DOORS, SASH, BLINDS, MAN-TELS, MOULDING, &C. Secure reserved seats for the concert and distribution, Saturday night, to be had at Phillips & Crew's. City subscribers, who have not secured cards, should get them at once. Positively no postponement. $5,000 in presents.

Do you want to enjoy yourself hugely? Then go to the Constitution concert Saturday night and hear doctors Sid Holland and E. L. Billups on the banjo, and Colonel Lowe on his violin. Perfact order will be kept, and the comfort of the ladies carefully guarded. Secure your reserved seats to-dry at Phillips & Crew's, before all are taken. A number gone already.

Married—A well-known citizen, Mr. St. Chair Fechner, late of the Reading Room, was married last Sunday, at Gainesville, to Ms. Mary J. Delmotte, the widow of a wealthy New York Importer. Only a few intense friends of the parties were present onthe occasion. The brother of the bride. Co. Alva Smith, is well known as one of the influential citizens of Gainesville, which place he has done much to improve by his energy and capital—having built the principal hotel there and invested a large amount of money.

The happy bride and groom have gone to New York on a bridal tour. We are informed that Mr. Feehner, on his return, will engage in a targe mane facturing business in thiseity, which will be his permanent home.

We are reliably informed that similar communications have been received by our local board of underwriters, not only from the parties mentioned in the foregoing extract from the Savannah Advertiser, but also from most of the other first class companies that are doing business in Georgia.

IN again calling attention to our popular grades of flours, we will attempt no further elaboration of their merits, except to say, that no flour in the wide world can surpass our FFF in purity of stock and richness of sample; and that the world can't produce a more substantial or nutritive flour than our FF.

The Family is good for the price, but, necessarily limited in quantity; being made only when we make the FFF.

We can readily fill orders for FFF and FF; but in selling Family, we are compelled to limit the orders to the supply on hand.

Orders for the three grades in equal quantity can be filled at short notice. or for FFF and Family in nearly equal quantities. Orders can generally be supplied promptly.
